BEGINNINGS

this chapter may be ending, but it doesn't mean that it is forgotten. You've learned so much from the past, who to trust, how to respond, the hardship you've grown from, and how strong you've become despite your circumstances. May this chapter be a time of new beginnings. Where you find balance over perfection. Choose what aligns with who you are, rather than what is convenient. Be present in the moment over multi-tasking. I hope you take the time to pause today, to really look into what the past has taught you and look forward to all the future has yet to teach you. Here to new beginnings.

One of the most interesting stages of my life that gave me an opportunity to learn and explore new things in life was the 'college phase'. Continuing my education in hopes of finding a great career, I joined Ramaiah college of Arts, Science and Commerce. And, I must say I donot regret my decision. Classes have good interactions and the topics are very well explained. The teachers are friendly, supportive and kind. They motivated us to work hard, do better and always filled us with positivity. I appreciate our teachers for playing a crucial role in developing my overall personality and making me what I am today. College is an experience that can be either good or bad depending on you. But also, it can be a very fun experience with lots of good memories when you surround yourself with good people. And, I can proudly say I met some amazing people in college who have become significant in my life today. On the first day of college, I really thought making friends would be difficult in college but everybody was so friendly and kind. We had amazing seniors too. They encouraged us to participate in all sports and cultural activities conducted in college. The best part of college has to be cultural programmes and sports. And, Our college always encourages healthy competition so student can learn and discover their potential from participating in different sports and cultural activities. It was always fun to participate in games, fashion show, dancing competition, etc. I have spent most of my leisure time and break hours in canteen. It's everybody's favourite spot. We also have a great library. And, I have spent little time in library too. When I was in final year, placements started. Great companies came to college for placements. Some of my friends got placed in well reputed companies and are currently working there. Our faculty helped and guided us during the whole process. I decided to do my Post graduation. Therefore, I did not sit for placements. I am now preparing for CAT. Last but not the least, I never thought about the day it would end. The exams ended and it seemed like everything changed. But, I was sure of one thing that I will never forget my college life and will miss it for the rest of my life. Also, I will be taking only good things from here.

It's been a great privilege for me to secure my bachelor's degree from Ramaiah college for arts, science, and commerce. It educates students not only for the syllabus point of view but also for the current affairs running in the world. The first day my college I was strongly presumed that there is ragging in the college, but once I entered in, I was hassle free from the thought of ragging. Ramaiah is also drug and tobacco free college. The seniors were very friendly that they encouraged in the coming up and participating us in all the sports and cultural activities conducted in the college. When it comes to competition it was considered as healthy competition between students who were participating from different departments, It also created opportunity for the students to learn. The students had the access to go to all the department to meet respective faculty and we had the access to browse computers for academic purpose in library and computer lab which eased my job for preparing resume and reports if required. I spent most of my after-college hours in canteen and ground, which is obvious that it's most of the people's favourite spot. The faculty never discouraged us from participating in any of the out of college events and social activities like NCC and NSS and so on. It's an honour for me to pursue NCC certificate too from the same college along side the studies. I never knew that my final year was in edge until the placements started, the companies which came were very much reputed and many of my friends got placed to very good companies and are leading a very good life too. We had faculty to train us on this which was fun and learn both I can say. Last but not the least, Teachers had a very special role in my life to play in the span of 3 years who are the reason why I can so boldly speak up now in front of any no. of people. I am at present pursuing MBA from Dayanand Sagar College.

"éclatant"

MES JOURS DOR

College life is known as one of the most memorable years of one's life. College life exposes us to new experiences and things that we were not familiar with earlier. Life is like a roller coaster; full of twists and turns, ups and downs, and full of surprises. Our college life is just as exciting, where we experience ups and down like being on a roller coaster ride. There were exciting moments along with stressfull , anxious, nervous and victorious moments. The college years are genuinely surprising and a wonderful point in life where we take mature steps towards our future, meeting many friends, choosing our majors , finalising our career, preparing for the challenges of the real world. I still remember the first day of college, wandering hither and thither, surrounded by strangers. In these three years, I have come across lots of struggles; be they our grades, new environment.

There were times when we had faced problems such as learning to submit assignments, making powerpoints, presenting seminar paper and being stress for semester exams. By the end of this college life I'm happy and confident since I had learnt all that I could have and was ready to face the adventures of real world. It is up to us to enjoy the ride or simply waste our time complaining .

" The lessons, the people, the moments Ramaiah gave me are something I'm gonna cherish in my lifetime. "

Throughout my lifetime I have listened to people reflect back on their college experiences and explain how college is supposed to be “the best experience of one’s life.” After spending 3 years at Ramaiah I realized that I couldn’t fully understand what college was like until I experienced it for myself. My first couple of weeks at Ramaiah was rough and I faced a lot of challenges. I was all alone in a new city, scared if I could ever adjust to the place but within a month or two I realized this is where I supposed to be. The love, care and guidance I got from my teachers and friends made Bangalore my new home. I was complete mesmerized by the campus. There were students from every corner of India and we all got along so well. Being in the Biological Science Department, I should mention that teachers I had in those 3 years, I wouldn’t have asked for better. Their knowledge, guidance and life lessons made us what we’re today. I’m presently doing my Masters from a Central University and it is the experience which I gathered from my teachers at Ramaiah and the unique subject combination I had (Genetics, Microbiology, Biochemistry) in my graduation that let me through the All India Entrances. Ramaiah never limited our knowledge to only theoretical studies, we had so much fun doing the laboratory works, several workshops and hands-on experiences. Apart from academics, I got so many platforms to showcase my interests in cultural activities like dance, painting, fashion show. Though I’m not a sports person myself I used to really enjoy the Annual Sports in our college and the fun me and my friends had during Tug-off war, because you need not be a sports person for that. It was during my 4th Semester that on the occasion of National Science Day our college along with Karnataka Science and Technology academy organised many inter-college competitions. On our teachers’ encouragement I participated in painting, a long lost hobby of mine. The results were declared, I got the first position and while the prize was handed over to me before the huge crowd was the moment I understood the goals of my life. Though it was not a big achievement, but for me being a simple girl in a new state, new city, among a whole lot of new people, the win made me believe in myself. I realized to never give up on my talents, rather should work hard to modify myself every day. Ramaiah helped me grow in every spheres of life and taught me to accept challenges and grow through every obstacles I face. Ramaiah made me a better person.

THE GOLDEN PERIOD OF EARLY YOUTH

College was a complete new chapter of my life. A whole new transition of meeting people from different parts of India, learning many new things, making some lifelong friends cum family, meeting awesome teachers who were more like friends & continuing my education to build a solid career.

The three years of my life at Ramaiah College of Arts, Science & Commerce as a Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) graduate was a foundation for what I am today. It was a perfect blend of joy and hardships. Entering college, I assumed that my professors were teachers who would just come and pour their vast knowledge on us and go, but it was never like that. Every day, every class used to be an interactive session where all our silly questions were answered. My teachers helped me fighting my greatest fears and in finding my passion and achieving it. They made me understand that college was not just about coming for textbook knowledge, but building a personality and expressing yourself. I remember from my school days that I used to be that guy who always hides whenever there were debate competitions or any kind of presentation, but after joining Ramaiah that fear was gone. My department gave me enough opportunities to overcome this fear. I was volunteer for our college cultural committee, and we organized many annual events. And this helped me understanding people from different places and how to interact with them. And the most interesting part of my college life was the “Annual industrial Visit”, a small tour with my friends. Overall those 3 years were the best years of my life not just academically but also professionally. Everyday spent in college is loaded with colorful and cheerful memories. A huge thanks to my department and all my teachers for supporting me and helping me finding right track.

“No knowledge without college”. Throughout my lifetime I have listened to people reflect back on their college life and explain their experience in college and when it was my turn I was curious, excited little nervous as I had new people and new environment around me. But, my college life at RAMAIAH taught me many lessons, it taught me public speaking and dealing with pressures and people. The teachers gave me good academic and friendly support. It gave me many thought provoking and interesting activities to be aware of my abilities. A vast range of academic, co curricular activities, workshops, internships and a memorable excursion with classmates. The days were so beautiful that I was eager to continue my journey once again in the same campus in a very interesting applicative subject Biochemistry.

“Things end but memories last forever”. College life is considered as one of the most precious and significant stage in every student’s life. Every student aspires to have an enjoyable and career building college life which I gained at RAMAIAH. Three years spent at Ramaiah was invaluable. Remembering my college life drives me nostalgic. Soon after plus two there existed a speck of nervousness in me, but the extent of warmth that RAMAIAH provided, moved it away. My college rendered all the aspects necessary for a student to develop his personality. It not only focussed on academics but also on co-curricular activities. My college conducted various workshops, provided opportunities for internship as well as the facilities rendered by my college were at peak. Teachers were very friendly and stood beside us in any situation and provided a moral support. During these beautiful days of my life I found Biochemistry a very fascinating subject and perfectly applicable in the present day world. All these experiences made me not to think of any other choices and led me to choose the same institution along with my subject of interest ie Biochemistry.

My time in Ramaiah College can be best described as a pleasant vacation. The 3 years here were filled with joy. The lectures, field trips, competitions and the cultural programs were fun and exciting and the faculty encouraged the students to participate and get the best of all that was offered. My best memories were during the cultural programs when my team and i prepared and performed dance routines and fashion shows. Everyone expects the final year to be difficult yet it was breezy and the faculty made it easy for us. I feel privileged for having completed my Bachelor's Degree from Ramaiah College. I will definitely miss all the moments experienced in college and the college canteen the most. Presently I have been placed in Godrej and Boyce MFG CO LTD through the campus recruitment program of our college.

Firstly I was really blessed to be a student at MSRCASC, since we had really good faculty who always helped us in motivating to achieve our goal and also correct us when we made mistakes. The faculty also played a good role as mentor who would understand the student's goal and direct them well so that the student would finally be doing what he/she was interested in. I did my B.Sc[EMCs] at MSRCASC passing out on May 2012. The department was always encouraging students not only in academics but also in sports and other co-curricular activities. After completing my degree I joined MSRIT to pursue my Master's[MCA]. It was a great opportunity to study at MSRIT, since the faculty at MSRIT also had same approach to groom the students and they were really very much helpful to the students and were always ready to guide the students. I got placed at AKAMAI TECHNOLOGIES with a superb package and I won a few awards such as "BEST OUTGOING STUDENT OF 2015" and won a silver medal for achieving "2nd RANK in MCA".I guess I am really lucky because I had the opportunity to do my Degree and Master both at M.S Ramaiah College. These institutions not only helped me in achieving my goals , but also taught me good principles which must be followed in life.

RAMAIAH : MY RIGHT CHOICE!

“Well begun is half done”, that’s how the famous proverb goes. As I chose the college for my U.G course, yes, I’m half done! The things which are written below are my own views and perspectives. If I am to talk about the college, its mandatory to talk about the college’s geographical features. This college is placed in ‘the garden city of India’, none other than Bengaluru, the fantastic city with sublime cosmopolitan culture and vibrant freedom in which anyone from the outside can explore and gain marvelous experience which any young aspirants have dreamt vehemently once in their life. From the student’s perspective he begins his journey towards college in either waddled motion so reluctantly or so eagerly, and as you step inside the college, all the saturated emotions comes to a static level, attaining inner peace and it’s the beatific atmosphere of the college that fostering it. The infrastructure is a simple design with hefty structure that defines simplicity without being ostentatious and it being an ideal structure for other colleges is one the best part of my campus. The well-furnished classrooms, providing flawless natural light and air, the well-equipped laboratories with advanced safety features, seminar halls and auditoriums which are well-maintained and spacious, which comes under one roof and all these took an extraordinary effort. The fundamental discipline with professional ethics and fraternal approach among the students are insistently adapted. The quality education with modern principles, morality and fair treatment from the high-profile teaching faculty is well promised. The efficient service provided by the non-teaching faculties and office staffs contributes to the success of institution. From extasy to ethnic day, the college provides a colossal effort for art and cultural festivals, sports, NCC, NSS, women’s cell development and other co-curricular activities. Another highlighting feature of my campus is that its worthiness is well-maintained and yet they advance for providing quality services for achieving academic excellence. Thereby with all the enormous features, thus I conclude that my campus is unrivalled and my choice is meticulous.

One of the most interesting stages in life that gives you an opportunity to explore is the 'college phase'. The 1st time I visited Ramaiah College with my sister for admission, my reaction was 'WOAH' this place is huge and even after few months I used to get lost trying to find my classroom. College life prepares you for most of the things, it is a perfect blend of joy and hardships. You meet different people, you interact and learn about their cultures, thoughts and ideas, discuss them with others around you to get a better perspective. And when we enter college what we don't realize is that we aren't here to just get a degree certificate, we are also here to get the guidance and support from experienced teachers. And as it's said "They may forget what you said but they will never forget how you made them feel". My teachers have supported me and guided through my hard phases and I can't thank them enough for it.

Hello Everyone,

I would like to share my beautiful experience of my life in Ramaiah College. Initially, just like others, I was also very new to the college atmosphere. Lecturers were so friendly that my hesitating nature was completely vanished. Thanks to my lecturers. Each and every lecturer were very innovative in their teaching and also the concept clarification which they gave us were simply amazing. Because of this I started loving the subjects. Our proctors were lecturers from Department of Chemistry, they were so supportive in our studies as well as co-curricular activities. Our principal was so encouraging, that she was our strength in our studies, as well as our co-curricular activities. She was organizing many seminars, conferences, where we were exposed to new atmosphere. Thank you for this educational exposure. Also, my friends were teachers of my life, where they thought me different things, both positive as well as negative. I am very happy and proud to be a part of MSRCASC Alumni. The step of my life in MSRCASC, gave me a huge success, a part of it was me being one of the subject's highest scorer (Chemistry, Biotechnology, Microbiology and Kannada) and it is my privilege to be a part of Gold Medalists during 2014-17 of my degree. I would like to thank our Principal Mrs. Nagarathna A, my HOD Mr. Prasanna Kumar and all our Professors, who has moulded me and my friends and has lead us to a new path in our life. It was a great thing to be a part of MSRCASC.

FLASHBACK

WHAT HAS BEEN YOUR BEST EXPERIENCE SO FAR?

As kids, many people get asked variations of the same question: “What has been your best experience so far?” and even at that age, there are many joyful moments like-birthday parties, trips to the local amusement park, and bicycle-riding lessons. But often, it is not until their teenage that they go through some very valuable events. Some, for instance, may find their experience during their military service to be of utmost importance, while some find that their experience as a parent was the most rewarding. Personally, I consider my time in college is my most valuable experience. I got to experience a different part of Bangalore during my college days. I enjoyed every bit of my college and I believe college shaped me. In addition to learning practical skills, being in college has also taught me a lot about Electronics such as microprocessors and PCB’s. I thoroughly enjoyed learning as classes were more engaging and fun. This made my time in college much more enriching and worthwhile. Being placement coordinator and president of the Electronics department’s club had also allowed me to gain more knowledge about how to manage and co-ordinate things at different stages. I met amazing people at college – My friends and Teachers. I made millions of memories and many stories, beautiful ones. For now, reminiscing them makes me glad. In summary, my time in college has enriched my life in many ways. It provided me with the necessary tools to enhance my skills, taught me valuable knowledge about this diverse world, people and concepts in general. Eventually it enabled me to become more successful in life. All these aspects of college have also made me better-rounded as a person. If I could go back in time and speak to my much younger self when I was first asked the question, “What has been your best experience so far?” the baby-faced version of me would certainly have been surprised by what my answer is now.

Hi Everyone, I want to share best moments of my college life. Ramaiah College is a place where you can explore new thoughts and increase your knowledge as you have best lecturers there. I studied BSc EMCs (Electronics, Mathematics and Computer Science). I had some knowledge in Mathematics and Computer Science but Electronics was new to me. As we have experienced lecturers working in Ramaiah who taught us and help us to understand the subject very easily which made me to score well and complete my degree successfully. We used to enjoy practical classes and had fun by playing with wires, resistors, capacitors etc. In degree, studying Mathematics and Computer Science was not easy. We used to attend all classes, take notes and practice everything at home. That helped us to solve problems and create new programs. High importance was given to language classes. Special Thanks to all my lecturers (Prof.Kanakavalli, Mrs.Sudha, Mrs.Annapurna, Mr.Ravi, Mrs.Sandya, Mrs.Ramani, and Mrs.Malathi) who gave me so much of confidence and knowledge, which helped me to explore my thoughts, get recruited and work in one of the top MNC companies(Oracle India Private Ltd). This would not have been possible without their help and guidance. My heart full thanks to Ramaiah College for the knowledge what I have got from there. Proud to say that I am a Ramaiah product

First of all I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the staff members of BBA department for being very supportive and friendly throughout my degree program. And I would like to extend my special thanks to our HOD Dr.Lakshmi pathi Naidu sir for this continuous guidance and encouragement. I have no doubt that they are very skilled and have great expertise in their respective fields. BBA at Ramaiah was one of the best experience of my life and it brought clarity of thought, knowledge and conduct which helped me to grow better professionally and personally. The relation between faculty and students is very cordial and I really loved the way teachers approach to the students to extend their help. Apart from academics department also provides us with different opportunities to improve ourselves like Management Fest & guest lectures programs. I request all the students to make use of these opportunities provided and come out as an professional management student. I wish " ALL THE VERY BEST " for all the prospective students.

The lecturers were very friendly they gave us the best practical and theoretical knowledge they also encouraged us to participate in sports and cultural activities which

College Experience: One of the most interesting stages in life that gives you an opportunity to explore is the 'college phase.' Life at college is the time when the teenage years end and we all dive deep into the ocean of new beginnings and possibilities. This golden period better equips you for all the challenges you'll face in life and creates a strong foundation of knowledge. My experience at MS Ramaiah College has taught me one fundamental thing – life is unpredictable. It might be good, it might be bad, it might be weird, and it might not interest you, but expect anything to happen. It's a perfect blend of hardships. You meet different people, interact with them, learn about their cultures and grow as a person. You learn to sit through a boring lecture; try to cope up with the surprisingly strenuous syllabus, and you get to learn from some great research minds. Academia, as they say, never lets you go free. Remember that there will be moments that carry a lot of sentimental value and you can't help but miss those years later. The friendships you make in college is one of the wonderful aspects. These people will give you strength and be your knights in shining armour all your life. The time you spend with your friends, playing Mafia, Poker, or arguing about any random topic, your regular lecture, "bunking" to watch a new release of your favourite star, will always stay in your heart. Planning road trips, occasional adventure surges, and impulsive journeys- all these things make you more emotional when you bid adieu to the institution. So, one fine day, when you see pictures of your friends having a good time, you'll definitely land up smiling silently. That's the beauty of college life. It stays with you long after you've climbed those ladders of success and forgotten the name of that cute crush you used to drool over. It's a wild mash of experiences, with all sort of hilarious stuff going down in the hostels!

THE BLISSFULLY CHALLENGING COLLEGE LIFE

Poojitha S Pai

BSc BT (2014-17)

MSc Microbiology (2017-19)

From the good old days, “College Life is the Best Life” has been the saying and I definitely agree. Those B.Sc days in the period 2014-17 in Ramaiah were very memorable to me, surrounded by my dear friends, stern but encouraging teachers and the general college atmosphere itself. It was a mixture of fun, education, entertainment and inspiration. Some days we had hours and hours of continuous note-taking in every class, whereas other days we had free classes to fuel our imagination with what we thought we wanted. Our classes were alternating with new methods in Biotechnology, and then a little bit of reaction-filled Chemistry, followed by microscopic details of Microbiology in macro-life. This schedule was also sprinkled with thought-provoking English and Hindi classes up until the second year and none after that.

Lunch breaks were always fun, incorporated with the beautiful principle of “Sharing is Caring”, for certain friends who missed home-cooked food. Both the localites and hostelites mingled, fought and learnt to co-exist with each other, sharing knowledge, food and their respective cultures. We would want the breaks to continue as long as the classes but we cannot get everything in life. Educational and Life Lessons were doled out via different routes such as lectures, presentations, scolding in case of class bunking, games, activities, trips and a lot of back-breaking assignments. At that moment, we didn’t understand the importance of it but the moral came later when we got to know some of us were Centum-scorers due to our hard work and absorbance of knowledge from the teachers, who were very concerned and enthusiastic to transfer all their teachings to us, for the sake of their students' future. With my M.Sc course in Microbiology being continued in Ramaiah itself, I obtained a 5- year bond with the campus and all the people in it. Some of my friends joined in with me, few scattered to other disciplines or colleges. Nevertheless, the friendship remained stable and the teachers, some known and some new went on to distribute and dispense their knowledge to us. M.Sc was more vigorous, with less time to have fun and more time plus a whole lot of energy to invest in coursework as well as projects. B.Sc was totally different from this course, since the latter was all about getting to know the new disciplines of Lifesciences whereas the former focused on delving deep into the world of Microbiology and implementing it to solve challenges in real life. The mentoring received from the teachers in the two years was top-notch, no doubt, with them guiding us to the entrance of a long tunnel called Research. We were asked to look up journals instead of textbooks, a turning point which changed our perspectives and mindset related to a subject. The final component of the course, being the Project/Dissertation was successfully completed with excellent guidance from the supervisors, acquisition of practical knowledge as well as hands-on experience of designing and executing various experiments. With our diligence and perseverance, accolades were won when several students, of which I was one, secured privileged gold medals for being first rank holders at the University level. This is definitely dedicated to all the teachers from B.Sc to M.Sc, encouraging us on every step of our educational ladder and steering us on the right path, as well as our parents who stood with us like an immovable pillar of support and strength, to whom we are all thankful and obliged. My heart fills with gratitude and happiness when I think back to all the amazing memories and experiences I had and forever will cherish. Live Long, Learning!

RAMAIAH: MY SPARKING MOMENTS

College life experience is truly one of a kind. The most common memories people have of college life are definitely goofing around with friends. College life is completely different from school life. It gives us more exposure and also makes us more confident. Exactly, My life in RAMAIAH COLLEGE has been an amazing ride. I still remember the first day of college. I felt I was Alice in Wonderland and I also felt like just in a blink of eyes in these three years in RAMAIAH COLLEGE.

One Idea can Spark a Moment.

One Vote can change a Nation.

One Ramaiah can make many Ramaiahans.

Everything began to get an interesting moments, exactly this RAMAIAH COLLEGE days made my days a spark moment, spending time friends and it made us to reach our dreams. I always look back at the times spent in the college canteen. Hmmm..... Apart from this the last day of my college is very emotional. It is unbearable to say good bye to my best friends. Everyone goes his own separate ways after college life. However college life is an amazing experience which cannot be forgotten.

THE CHOICES

My mom recalls that on the auspicious day of my 'Annaprashana', from the platter full of snacks and savouries, I chose the crispy "Jilebi". This choice of mine was subjected to various analysis of my instinct towards preferences. History apart, the word "Choice" and its synonyms in both noun and verbal form has always made me think deeper about its impact on my life. In my elementary school days, I preferred answering the section of state true or false rather than elaborative answers as I had to write only 'True' or 'False'. When I was in high school, explaining the function of an ear or an eye with diagram was much easier to me than choosing the correct answer from the choices as one of the choices was 'none of the above'. In the course of time when I was preparing for competitive examinations, I was introduced to an additional choice of 'all the above'. As the choices increased, my hands had minimum work to do and my brain had to do overtime job. During my higher studies, I had to take up open book exam; which meant that I had to choose the correct answer from the whole book: Unlimited Choices. Looking back on the time line, the escalating choices has made my life more miserable (on a lighter note) Prior to the mall culture, for the grocery shopping all I had to do was list out essentials and hand over the list to the owner of our regular shop but now I need half a day for the same job, thanks to the choices I have. I remember rehearsing the poses before a photo was clicked because of minimal options of printing it. But now my phone has innumerable photos with the same poses and none of them are printed owing to difficulty in choosing. The Asian paints colour card is strong enough to show how difficult the choosing option can turn out to be. Starting from TV channels to career options, hangout places and incidents to mention in this article I encounter plenty of choices. Recovering from this "Choice Phobia" I have smartly fixed this in my life. I just went back to square one, the choice of "Jilebi". Whenever I have a choice, I always select the one that pleases (sweetens) me irrespective of the consequences.

EXPERIENCE

I am excited to share my experience as a Ramaiah alumni. 3 years ago, I remembered I was extremely excited bit nervous little bit scared to enter UG. Honestly, the time flew by so fast I still cannot believe that I am graduated from UG to my Master's. I would like to talk little bit about my great experience at MSRCASC and how made me better person as I am today. way back in 2017 I was just a little girl who was coming to Bangalore all the way from Vijayawada Andhra Pradesh I was 18 years old at that time and I had no clear vision of the future I was too young to know what I wanted to do in life. I feared the unknown I was scared that I would not be able to make new friends I was scared that I will not fit in the new place. Luckily, I came to MS Ramaiah College of arts science & commerce to do my Bachelor of Business Administration program where I had the most caring the most supportive the most understanding faculty, I have made plethora of friends that I am sure if I stayed in Andhra Pradesh, I probably would stuck with my small group of friends I met people from all over the states from different backgrounds, different cultures. They taught me about their home just like I taught about mine. I learned to respect other people's values and beliefs I learned to communicate and to socialize with people better. Every single person I met at Ramaiah taught me interesting things and something new. Each one helped me grow and understand my real self. I started noticing my individual growth the minute I got to Ramaiah college of arts science and commerce student by trying out different subjects and participating in classroom activities and other co-cultural activities I realized that I am energetic person where I have participated actively in sports and was awarded as best athlete women in the year 2018 and 2019 as well. All these experiences that I had during my BBA at MSRCASC made me come to the point where I am now. Doing master's after UG has been a dream for most of us than it even began Right now I am doing my Master's in International Business Management in Edinburgh Napier University, UK. I could not say that 1 year ago I am not sure about my interest because I am still in the process of discovering myself. But today I am in the process of reaching my heights with all the extreme support from my faculty, family and friends and I can not stop being thankful for that. And 3 years have passed just like yesterday that we took the most important decision of our lives and if I think about it not much has changed, I continue to make big decisions but today there is a difference I am far more prepared better informed. The past years I have transformed personally and professionally as well I would like to thank our Principal DR. A. NAGARATHNA for always supporting us I would like to thank our Dean DR. BINDU NAMBIAR who pushed us beyond our boundaries in understanding ourselves better in each and every possible way and finally how can I forget the great and sound practicality of our HOD DR. LAKSHMI PATHI NAIDU where there is a solution beneath the surface of every problem we just have to keep drilling down and ultimately guiding us to becoming extraordinary managers so I guess I'm trying to say is what we learn in those class rooms were not just lessons on management they were in fact lessons on life that we will take with us forever and then this experience would not have been complete without the most caring and supporting , bright wonderful faculty that made this experience unforgettable the depth of knowledge that they have taught and are priceless who always there for us in thick and thin. I have created something far stronger than a network I have created a bond. A bond of respect, friendship and gratitude. Finally, a Heartfelt thank you to our HOD DR. LAKSHMI PATHI NAIDU for giving me such wonderful opportunity to write this article.

Bonjour

First day of college, me being as excited as ever couldn't wait to experience the feeling of stepping into a new college and meeting new people. The adrenaline rush was at its peak as I entered the seminar hall and glanced all the new faces who later turned out to be my dear friends and sweetest faculties of this very prestigious college. MSR college has always been an institution focusing in shaping students in the right way to become responsible citizens in the future and I was thrilled to be part of this institution. My experience out here has been nothing short of a beautiful journey that would stay really close to my heart. I'm amazed by my growth as an individual in all aspects of life. This wouldn't have been possible without the help of my HOD who is one of the sweetest person I've come across in my life. He never says no and is always willing to help! The entire faculty who have been kind enough to deal with an over energetic and mischievous student like me. I've made such good friends from diversified backgrounds. I would like to conclude by saying a whole hearted thank you to everyone for playing crucial roles in making my degree life a one to cherish for a life time.

INDOORS

*Cage me indoors, if you knock,
I may feel unsure of my path.
And lock me in my dreams,
To explore the fairy tales of this time.*

*As the snowflakes settles down, over the night,
My musings captivates my sense.
Yes! Am awake to dream my dreams,
In one million waking spectrum.*

*Darkest is the sky, partial is the moon,
To escape the pangs of the pandemic.
Those rampant images of this boutade,
Muddle the veins to scrawl my lines.*

*Here goes the first lines of isolation,
To those who wears the cape of courage.
Amidst the silence, they recapitulate:
The fear as a nocuous worm.*

*Sapient are people who died yesterday,
For tomorrow has no vows.
Bravo! To the men at home,
For they enjoy the quarantine time.
Nothing can bent in my weird ways,
Bar my faith in prayer and miracles.
Bliss! To the mind that forgets the worst,
'Cos repentance could change everything.*

*Find no time to be bored in a world,
Of marvelous mirrors and beauty.
Novel is a poem, that lie deep,
In the sanctorium of my nightmare.*

*Alas! Astounding is the crack of the dawn,
Launching a ray of hope and being.
To bring in sunshine, staying indoors,
For survival was my only revenge*

RECOLLECTION

2017-2020, three memorable years.... Whenever it comes to remembering our college days, the happiness which we feel after remembering them is really beautiful... And at times it feels that we wish we could go back in those days and live them once again.. The first year was more like our time to understand and settle to the environment to which we then belonged.. it was easier than i expected.. Lecturers and seniors were so welcoming we got adjusted very soon and the journey started.. From college fests to celebrating festivals we the students of RCASC do it in our own way. From ramp walks during XTASY to ganesha procession during Ganesha habba.. from DJ to kerala drums during onam.. everything was a bliss.. And within the blink of an eye we became seniors Being a senior in itself an amazing feeling.. fortunately and unfortunately ragging was not allowed.. The best thing that happened to me in my second year is TEAM CULTURALS. When i joined the team i did not know what i was getting into.. but for sure I made the right choice.. Fests are fun.. But working back hand for the success of the fest was always a different kind off happiness.. we did XTASY, we gave Ganesha festival a new dimension and called it Akurath, and also onam became AARAVAM. All the events were a big hit and i will always be proud to be a part of the amazing team who worked for it College is not about just having fun but it is also about learning to give back to the society.. this i realized after I got to know that our college took initiative to make donations with the help of final year students!! And then we were all set to be seniors and rule!!! As super seniors, it was definitely the best year I could ask for. It was filled with so much.. we knew we did not want it to end... But we also knew we couldn't stop so had to make the best of the year. We went on trip to Goa, the mandatory trip and were few lucky ones who could go on trip with friends before pandemic set in. After three whole years now when i look back.. i have a lot to cherish.. the times we bunked classes.. the times we did nothing but sat near the canteen and had fun conversations with friends and also getting serious glances from all lecturers passing by.. the moments when one coffee in the canteen could bring back all the energy after a bad day.. all the still under-construction places which were best places to hangout.. better than hanging out at Bel road at times. Just when we thought this was our home we had to bid good bye.. in the most unexpected way.. Though we did not get to live our last few moments in and around the corridor, a few moments in the canteen, one last lecture.. one last bunk.. we lived the best three years we could Right now all i know is i miss my college.. my friends.. my favorite place.. canteen.. College is fun, but is incomplete without having lecturers who will scold you, guide you and help you become the best version of yourself. All I can do is thank all my lecturers for always being there for us. From being an anxious girl with no certain aim for life to being an independent girl who is certain about her life.. RCASC has helped me evolve..

FUTURE CAREER

Though I was late to the college, the very first word I heard when I entered my orientation class in BBA was Management stuff: HR MARKETING FINANCE by my faculty illuminating their respective subjects' importance and roles. Transitioning from high school to college for me is a big challenge because of my change in the stream from science to commerce. It was not until HOD came and addressed that he too once was a science student and explained commerce was as easy as science then I got motivated. Then I slowly adapted to the atmosphere of the classroom trying to seriously figure out what BBA is all about. With the very first lecture given by my faculty on management principles, I got the basic idea of what management study is. The next thing I did was interacting with different people from different parts of the country in one classroom which provided me the real learning. I considered this process as a social experiment. Gradually I concentrated on my internals followed by my first semester. After the unexpected but wonderful result of my 1st semester, I was asked by one of my faculty to treat all my friends in class for being the topper of the class. I chuckled and sat on my bench thinking deep inside that I should strive hard for the remaining semesters if not the class would assume, I fortunately, scored the top mark in my 1st semester. This thought kept me working hard in the coming semesters.

In the coming semesters, I slowly embraced all the concepts of accounting, Management principles, Industry and production-related concepts taught vividly by my teachers. It was then I got the whole and the big picture of what business management is all about. This degree means that you have the education, skills, and general understanding of how to operate within a company or organization. In this college, I have learned a range of administrative, marketing, and accounting concepts. When my faculty sometimes leave concepts without addressing them in detail, I was so worried and annoyed and wondered what could be the reason behind explaining them succinctly. Later I realized our teachers might be expecting "we as a management student we must analyse and understand few concepts on our own" which is a necessary skill in management and as a management student. This faculty helped me in one special aspect called self-analysis which I would otherwise call self-understanding. My teachers helped me to get rid of spoon-fed concept, which school teachers used to do. I efficiently managed to understand the concepts taught by my faculty thereby further diving into the concepts deeply, by reading between the lines which is my work to do, without entirely depending on my faculty. However, the important insights and concepts where I didn't understand even after analysis were addressed which was a wonderful method to resolve my doubts. Apart from teaching, my college was fully loaded with, cultural activities like ethnic day, Annual sports day, extracurricular activity like, sport, club, travels, volunteer service in NCC, NSS, as well as Academic honours and achievements awarded by our honourable principle with her encouragement praises. Our industrial visits helped us understand better the corporate world. When I participated in one of the business quizzes called stock market simulation, conducted in my department, I decided then to make finance my specialization subject in my final year. Of course, the stock market doesn't all mean FINANCE. It was one of the parts which caught my eye and kindled interest in FINANCE. When I entered my final year, our dean taught us one of the subjects of finance who practically knows Investment Banking, Wealth Management. Not until did the dean ask to present a lecture on portfolio management then I made myself clear about my career dreams in wealth management. The concept of financial markets fascinated me to the next levels. I also made myself clear, I should be doing a project related to financial markets. When I undertook a project of finance related to the stock market under the guidance of my faculty, I came to know the importance of marketing and HR in doing my project. How marketing and even HR is interlinked with financial markets indirectly. First, I wondered how HR related to the stock market in my project. But I came to know the Corporate Governance determines the nature of relations between the main stakeholders in the firm. How they indirectly affected the fundamentals and Industry of a company as a whole. What I am trying to say here is as a Management student I understood BUSINESS MANAGEMENT implied the trio of HR, MARKETING, AND FINANCE. Finally, I am fortunate to tell that my college, teachers, and friends whom I all assumed as knowledge radiating bodies emerged as facilitators of new ideas and lead me to think innovatively in these three years of wonderful college life.

All this has been possible because of the Bachelor's degree in Computer Applications degree that I got from MSRCASC that moulded me to advance and pursue my Master's Degree in Computer Sciences from California Lutheran University. Last but not least, all thanks to the global exposure in the US for over a decade in the United States that actually gave me the right blend of technology, business domain and marketing, thereby helped me become the person who I am today, with the unique combination of executive functions and technical promotions.
